BARRACKS STORM: BOMBARDED

Early Fall of City Predicted LEFTISTS REPORTEDLY PEACE SEEKING

Lisbon, Aug. 23.

According to reports from Seville, a squadron of insurgent bombers raided Madrid and heavily bombed the region of the militia. barracks.

The squadron then retired safely, according to the messages.—Reuter.

Lisbon, Aug. 23. The early fall of Madrid is predicted by the Marquis Quintanar, delegate to Portugal from the Spanish Insurgent Junta at Burgos. He asserts that within three or four days the insurgents will be attacking the Leftists in the environs of Madrid, which will be followed by the capture of the capital. The trouble may even end earlier, owing to peace proposals being made by the socialists of Guipuzcoa Province, including the defenders of San Sebastian, Irun and Santander.

After the rebel victory, Spain will be ruled by a military dictatorship, which will ultimately select the regime calculated to best serve the country.-Reuter Special.

Protest to France

Lisbon, Aug. 23. The French Ambassador has refused to accept the Note of protest from the insurgent junta at Burgos, protesting against the bombing of an insurgent stronghold by French-built planes flying the French colours. It is alleged, that it squadron of fifteen such planes bombed Naval Peral and other places on Friday.-Reuter.

Bombers at Malaga

Gibraltar, Aug. 23. On consequence of direct hits by insurgent aircraft, a big petrol depot at Malaga was completely gutted. It is understood that the depot held a million gallons of spirit.—

Warships Hasten To Investigate

NOT PERTURBED LONDON BY INCIDENT

London, Aug. 23.

An official statement issued here to-day states the British steamer, Gibel Zerjon, was stopped by a Spanish warship ten miles off Melilla.

The battle-cruiser Repulse and two of His Majesty's destroyers are proceeding to the vicinity to investigate.

The Admiralty later announced that H.M.S. Codrington, flotilla leader out of Gibraltar, had overhauled the Spanish cruiser Miguel de Cervantes, which stopped the Gibel Zerjon. The captain of the destroyer went aboard the Spanish warship and protested against the Spaniard's interference with British shipping outside territorial waters.

"THE EVERLASTING BONFIRE"

"Mr. Byrne is not anxious to press the question of damages, but has come here in order to show in public that he is not a man who does anything of this kind and has done nothing which makes him worthy of being . They found that when a person passed into the everlasting bonfire."

Mrs. Deane gave evidence that when she saw the notice the word it should be treated as such.

it had been established that he was not the man who informed the police. Stay of execution was granted.

JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED

These doctors are sly folk—and human, too.

You remember what has been said at the British Medical Association's meeting at Oxford?

Bread, butter, cheese, buttermilk, leggs, lenf and root vegetables, fruit, ment and water have been proclaimed as the ideal diet.

Alcohol has been said to have adverse effects.

But just look at the menu for the doctors' annual dinner.

There is no substitute for newspaper publicity the fact that the advertising is combined with the news of the day ensures that it is read daily.

Calculated on the cost per thousand copies, the newspaper delivers-advertising into the homes at a fraction of the cost of circulars.

Circulars are often discarded without being read! Newspapers are read daily.

The cost of sending out circulars every day would be prohibitive.

The South China Morning Post and The Hongkong Telegraph (with their guaranteed circulations) carry to thousands of homes daily, the message of the advertiser There is no substitute for newspaper publicity.

HONGKONG TRAVEL ASSOCIATION ISSUES ANNUAL REPORT

ESTIMATES FOR THE

An interesting report has been issued for presentation at the first annual general meeting of the Hongkong Travel Association, which will be held in the Urban Council Chamber on Friday, September 4, at 5.15 p.m. The meeting will consider and adopt the report of the Board of Directors for the year ending June 30, 1936; elect two members to the Board of Directors; and discuss any other business.

.. The report summarises the Association's activities, and gives estimates and recommendations for the second year's programme. It is shown that tourist traffic to the Colony last year increased materially.

The Association had at its disposal during the year under review a Government grant of $25,000, to which has since been added public subscriptions in the sum of approximately $16,000. Out of these funds the Association has produced, and is distributing, its first and second posters, its first brochure, its Handbook of Hongkong and its Travellers' Map of Hongkong; it has also preduced a "Magic Carpet" film of Hongkong and had conducted advertising campaigns in the Malayan and Siamese newspapers. Outside, the sign is used by thieves, burglars, cardsharpers and tricksters who want to be sure they are not wasting their time on one another. Inside prisons, it and similar signs serve to distinguish the genuine "lags" from those who are in for an accident, an impulse, or some offence outside the ordinary run of criminal activities.

THE PRISONERS "handie" language is well adapted for its purpose. It enables the user to express his wants unnoticed, or to give warnings-but it is not well adapted to long conversations or abstruse philosophical inquiry.

Complicated information, if the prisoners have no opportunity for talking, has to be given and received either in the sung language used in chapel, or in the knock language used when the men are in their cells.

The sung language consists sim-ply in shouting the hymn at the top of one's voice, interspersing the words with the bits of information one wishes to convey:-

Bill's doing a job does not mean, of course, that William has turned over a new leaf, but that he has used the months in prison to work out the details of a plan which is likely to land him back there before long.

The knock language is a laborious affair. Your neighbour has to spell out slowly his message—one knock for "A," six for "F," and so - on through the alphabet.

B.M.A. APPEAL FOR BAN ON POISON GAS

Call to World Scientists— "This Thing Shall Not Be Done"

"OUR BRITISH MASK 100% PROTECTION"

RESOLUTION to ban the making of poison gas came before the annual representative meeting of the British Medical Association at Oxford recently.

That the representative body is of opinion that any protective mensures for the general population against chemical warfare can only be very imperfect and inadequate. As chemical warfare will cause unsuffering and Impairment of health, physically and mentally, together with the destruction of life, it should be proclaimed illegal.

In the interests of humanity the British Medical Association should take the initiative with a view to securing the co-operation of the medical profession of all countries in order to prohibit the manufacture of polson gas.

"I should like," Dr. Jones continued, "to quote the report of an instructor who said, 'We learned how a spark of mustard gas only a millimetre in size may cause a blister the size of a threepenny piece upon the skin, and how by the time the effect appears it is too late to do anything."

APPEAL TO WORLD

"Can we visualise what any effective measure to meet this possibly dire situation would mean? Forty-five million people wearing gas masks. Each new-born baby and infant in arms would have to be supplied.

It contains the results of an investigation into the causes of sickness absence in two large groups of workers, by May Smith and Margaret Leiper.

Their chief conclusion is that sickness is much more prevalent among women workers than among men.

Factory workers tend to have a lower sickness rate than shop assistants or clerical workers. This is partly due to the fact that St. Patrick's Night (Paddy O'Brien many factory workers are on a piece-rate basis and are therefore more likely to stay at work when a clerk or a shopgirl would take a day or two off.

The common cold and influenza account for nearly 40 per cent. of the absences. An interesting psychological phenomenon is that workers who deal with people are more prone to illness than those who deal with Miss Laverne to-day, "So hard in symbols or things. THE SALESMAN'S LOT

For example, the average number of days lost by workers conto think, but I have taken a broad | cerned with people-waitresses, salesmen, etc.-was 3.1 for men and 5.6 for women. The number of days lost by clerks and writers was "I find the world wants nudlsm 2.7 for men and 3.5 for women.

When you come to workers concerned with things-factory workers—the figures fall to 2.1 for men and 3.0 for women. The investigators make the following comment on these figures:

"The salesman whose goods are in daily requirement and relatively standardised has an easier time than the salesman who not only has to supply the goods but to suggest, if not create, the want. To sell fashion goods may demand different qualities from those required to sell bread, aspirin or matches."

THAT WEEK-END FEELING It was found that in most cases of sickness there was only a oneday absence and that there were more absences on Saturdays and Mondays than on any other day of the week. The accident rate for men is higher, but women have more operations.

London had the highest accident rate, 17, for men against 6,9 in Outer The effects of bad management and bullying overseers on the health of the workers was very marked in some workshops.

In one firm, during an influenza epidemic, nearly all the girls in one room were absent, while few girls stayed away in the next room. The reason for this was that the head of the first room was a petty nagger, while the overseer of the other room was a kind, jolly soul bubbling over with the joy of life. The girls loved her, but hated the termagent next

TOKYO AND THE NEXT OLYMPICS PREPARATIONS IN HAND

Y15,000,000 IS REQUIRED

Tokyo, which grew in less than a decade from the shambles left by the earthquake of 1923 to a great modern city, is planning still further building achievements as it prepares to play host to the world's athletes during the Olympic Games

The city's preparations are designed to enhance Tokyo's permanent! greatness as a world centre as well; as to accommodate in the best possible manner those who will come here for the athletic carnival.

Enlarged hotels, new paving, improved transportation systems will go into the general betterment of conditions here while at the same time providing accommodation for the Olympic visitors.

GREAT REJOICING

One outstanding impression from the fete was that Tokyo considered the United States largely responsible for bringing the games to Japan. That angle was featured in many newspaper stories and the effect was shown by a generous use of American flags about the city and affectionate greetings to Americans by Nipponeso aports enthusiasts.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION

A survey of hatel accommodation shows that Tokyo has 13 hotels suitable for Olympic visitors and that by 1940 there should be some 2,000 hotel rooms available. The famed Imperial Hotel is planning a 230room nir-cooled addition and the Sanno hotel an addition of 120 rooms.

Should additional rooms be required Japanese mas could be altered on short notice to suit foreign tastes and customs, on a four-year improvement' progranune with the objective of having at least 4,000 new passenger cars constructed.

COURTESY TO BE STUDIED

The attitude of Japan toward foreigners already has come into discussion. Recently there have been efforts to have foreigners treated more courteously and subjected to i less surveillance. "The mental attitude of the Japanese toward foreigners could not be said to-day to be worthy of a first-rate world power," remarked the newspaper Chagai Shoppo in an editorial.

"We should prepare to meet foreigners with a fair attitude, and should take the Olympic games as an opportunity for dispelling possible misunderstanding. We should not regard the games as a mere festival," Concerning the actual physical requirements for the athletic contests, plans as developed thus far call for:

1.—Enlargement and improvement of the Melli shrine stadium to a capacity of 120,000 spectators. 2.—Enlargement and improvement of the Melji swimming pool, with room for 30,000 speciators.

3.—Construction of a stadium for hockey, rugby, soccer and cycling. 4.—Provision of a field for equestrian games.

5.—Construction of two stadiums for boxing, fencing, gymnastics. G.—Provision for a boating course. a gallery for art exhibits and a hall for displays of traditional Japanese sports. It has been estimated that 15,000,-000 yen will be required, to put Japan in readiness for the Olympics. The government is expected to provide 5,000,000 yen and contributions mainder.—United Press.

The tennis league season is, struggling to a finish but with odd matches being mutually arranged here and there it is impossible to give a definite programme from week to week.

This afternoon K.C.C. (1) entertain United Services Recreation Club in a mixed doubles encounter, while at Kowloon Tong, the constantly-postponed "C" Division match between the Garden City club and K.I.T.C.,

Is scheduled to be played, On Thursday, if things turn out as arranged, K.I.T.C. and Recrelo will meet in the champlonship deciding

The Kowloon Indians may drop a point or two this afternoon in which ease Regreio's task will be made considerably lighter. But in any event Recreio is favoured to beat KITC, as the team is better balanced in every respect; possessing three pairs of equal strength.

The Hussain brothers, K.I.T.C. first string who have not yet lost or first string who have not yet lost or halved a single set this season, are going to be severely tested this week. Should they emerge from the ordeal with their record intact they will undisputably be named the best pair in the "C" Division.

K.C.C.' LAST CHÂNCE

To-morrow sees K.C.C, "A" Divlston team up against their bete note, Chinese Recreation Club (1). This will be Kowloon's last chance of having any say in the championship. But at the most it is a very slenderchance and cannot be seriously entertained.

SHANGHAI BOUT

Jock Creighton, well-remembered as a former Hongkong title holder and one of the cleverest boxers attached to the China Fleet. added another notable achievement to his long list of successes in Shanghai last week, when he gained a decision on points over Masao Koyayashi in the welterweight main event of professional boxing held at the Recreation Club of the Special Police.

ATTACK AND COUNTER-ATTACK

As the bout progressed into the middle stage the Japanese looked worried over the flerce stacatto tactics of the Briton. He also started missing more frequently as they sparred in the middle of the ring. In the fourth round Creighton had been glving the Japanese a bad time in some prolonged infighting when the latter suddenly broke clear and landed a series of hard blows to the face that put Creighton definitely on the run. But experienced in ring craft Creighton managed to weather the storm until the bell allowed him to slump exhausted in his corner.

Recovering quickly, Creighton took the fifth easily with a flerce attack to the body in which he hit the Japanese about five times as often as he was hit himself. He continued these tactics successfully into the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds, while the Japanese accepted the bunishmert without wincing and scored now and again with a hook to the face.

BOWLS CHAMPIONSHIP NOT YET DECIDED

Bowling Green Must Win Their Last Match

Kowloon Bowling Green Club's defeat by Recrelo on Saturday has opened up a new possibility concerning the second division bowls league championship. If the K.B.G.C. should lose their one remaining match and Recreio win the rest of their's, the teams will finish on level pegging. However on the face of it the K.B.G.C. appear to be reasonably safe for the title.

Saturday's results and Intest lengue tables follow.

Budge scored with one net-cord shot, con-ceding three double-faults.

Some interesting data was obtained from the play of G. P. Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey during their semi-Doubles Championship at Wim-Doubles Championship at Wimbledon. Hughes lost two service deliveries out of twelve in the semifinal and only one out of twelve in the final, his side winning 93 points to 43 lost in his service games. Tuckey dropped three of his service deliveries in the semi-final (out of 13 deliveries) and three more in the final (out of 14 deliveries), his side securing 110 points to 58 points lost during his services.

Tuckey won fifteen services in the Tuckey won fifteen services in the two matches to love or to 15, and Hughes eleven.

F Stokes, better known as a cricket Interporter, but withal a skilful wielder of the tennis racket; and C.C. Squires, who is but little below Carson. These five players would constitute one of the most powerful teams in the Orient, and because all, or any of them, may land on these shores in October, it behoves the Colony's players to start in now on serious practice and training. We have not won an Interport since 1929. Perhaps we shall not win this year. But at least let us endeavour to show that our tennis is not so barren as our 1935 performances indicat-

New Goalkick Rule

TAIRST class goalkeepers at Home, it is reported, have been spending the past few weeks accustoming themselves to the new goal-kick rule, which denies a goalkeeper the right of picking up the ball in his hands before kicking it. One wonders what goalkeepers in Hongkong are going to 24th Battery (Lieut. Withers, Sergt. do about it. The new rule opens considerable possibilities for alert centre-forwards. Outside of the Chinese, it has been noticeable Withers (24th Bty.); 2, Gnr. Kicking a stationary ball to obtain the best results is, on the one hand, form for Sussex in their match with a question of proper timing and on the other, a matter of weight transference. This is a simple axiom, though it demands hard practice to translate it into effective practical terms. Fortunately Colony goalkeepers enjoy one advantage. They are blessed with dry grounds for at least three parts of the season. It is on the mud-laden ground where custodians are going to experience their greatest trouble with this new rule. But if Colony goalkeepers care to adapt themselves to the new conditions, there is no reason why they should be materially af-fected. We shall have a better idea of the problem in a couple of months' time.

JOHN SUSSEX

HAT things happen in time is a characteristic snatch of rural philosophy. A good-looking sort of house stands empty, month after month, for perhaps a couple of years. People can't altogether understand why. Must be that the owners wanted too much for it, and so on. Nice piece of ground all round it, pleasant views yet sheltered. handy to a village and plenty of water.

Then one day the boards come down, curtains appear at the windows, the garden borders take on a cared-for appearance, and folk cease to wonder, except what the new people will be like. And that they'll find out all in good time.

Accidents occurred again and again at a certain cross-roads. So many inquiries were held yet nothing ever seemed to get done about it, as we say. The road service man had only to turn his back or go to a near-by cottage for a cup of tea, and there'd be a smash sure enough.

Hedges were cut back, corners were rounded, but as soon as the crops grew, the long, rich ears of the wheat ripening for harvest shut out the view of oncoming cross-wise traffic heading for a holiday coast.

Then the tragedles piled up. The spot became notorious. Folk sauntered out to it on a Sunday afternoon half expecting the walk might be enlivened by a sight of parrow squeaks and even crashes.

OW at long last the four cross-roads will be controlled by traffic lights. Red, amber and green will regulate the flashing stream of cars on race-days, deep-set in the heart of an empty stretch of country. It is just what was wanted. Electricity to work them with had reached the little factory centre years before, how, at long last, a couple of cables are straddling stage by stage the mile between. Thus ends a death-trap. or so we hope, and incidentally bringing light and power to a batch of residences agitating for it for some little while. Then they've begun to open up the grass wastes at the side of a winding lane. It's rumoured the water's to reach this and that hamlet and farmstead before the height of the summer. That doesn't necessarily mean that each house will get a laid-on supply.

But instead of the discredited well, there'll be a roadside tap, encased and locked, so that each would-be user first must "buy " a

All the same, it also goes to show what countrymen will put up with. But, it's all so unsystematic, almost casual in the way it comes £600,000 he left to accumulate through about.

So with the tiny country schools in many places. That the right of a child to a proper education should be made to depend upon an impoverished district's ability to pay or the initiative of some decrepit group of vicarage nominees is just as silly as scandalous. Yet that's still the general method. There's no common-standard in practice. A teacher, still in her early twentles, has desks bound to make the children fldgety, windows that never open and so high up that no child ever can see out of one, a range of ages from 5 years to 12. and of both sexes. Part of her duties is to regulate the tidy use of a common pall dry closet, dry boots and shoes too worn with a two-miles each way scuffle to school to keep out wet.

EVEN miles away, a new school is going up where the children will be more fortunate. The county committee granted so much money when the original plans were passed. All the rates would stand.

they said.

A couple of people with ideas about what should be distinctive in the lay-out of a rural school, and with money with which to back such ideas, offer to build such a school, first using up the county committees' fixed and original amount, then paying for the additional themselves.

That scheme's gone through. An architect has been commissioned to One half suspects the promoter's object is as much to indict the dreary discomforts and discouragement of such erections as the one almost neighbour unto it, as to equip the more fortunate batch of children with their proud facilities. Other efforts in the same locality concern themselves with village halls.

That word "proper" infers a general condition that what obtains la highly "improper." Furtive escapades take place after dark to make deposits under clods in odd corners of fields which the knowing for over afterwards avold. Continual complaint seems to be

One has never yet met the community which stirred itself on such an issue as to promote a fete in aid of its solution. That's what is done for village halls. A slow process, repeated annually.

The young die old before they lay even the foundation stone. " Talk " about the place possessing a hall of its own, as apart from sectarian assembly meeting rooms, which rule out one and another function often for narrow-minded reasons, goes on for years.

In our case we have got as far as a Committee. Then comes the Whitsun or the August fete and one day it will be that the thing has happened. "Talked about it long enough."

How the village shrugs its shoulders. But what a day they make of it when it all comes true.

MEN HAVE FAILED, NOT THE LEAGUE"

BUCHAREST, Aug. 12 TITULESCU, Rumanian Foreign Minister, VI. who has just won a smashing victory over the pro-German, anti-Semitic group in the Cabinet, to-day made a clear statement of foreign policy which may have a far-reaching effect on European affairs.

Rapprochement with the Soviet, he declares in an interview, is the best way to enable Rumania's existing alliances to have their full value.

This announcement follows the decision reached some days ago to permit Czecho-Slovakia to build a railway line across Rumania to link up with the Russian railway system.

At the same time Titulescu denies that permission has been given to Soviet troops to cross Rumanian

"I want peace and I want it through the medium of the League," he said, "but I have never based Rumania's security solely on the Covenant.

"Side by side with the Covenant of the League I have concluded special treaties of alliance such as those of the Little Entente (Rumania, Yugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia) and the Balkan Entente (Yugo-Slavia. Rumania, Turkey and Greece), which are within the framework of the League and are a necessary complement to it. .

Feel Your Head Bumps Before You Get Bumped

REEL your head "bumps" before you cross the road; don't wait until you wake up in hospital to learn that those parts of your brain which control your actions through caution, perception, and reflection are undeveloped.

This new form of "safety-first" advice was given at the British Phrenological Society's golden jubilee congress and exhibition at Essex Hall, Strand, W.

A plea was made for simple, individual mind training to establish nabits of caution and quick perception of possible danger —thus helping to reduce the high toll of street accidents.

DOCTOR ADVISES OVERHAUL AT 45

Outspoken comments on unnecessary deaths before 50, and on the need for physical culture as against sports, are made by Dr. Charles E. Goddard, Medical Officer of Health for Wembley, in his report for 1935. Dr. Goddard retires in August after 41 years' service with the Council.

Pointing out that nearly 80 persons died in Wembley in 1935 in their fifth decade, Dr. Goddard com-

"They had come to the end of their lives prematurely. This must surely be an admission of failure, with the majority of them, to be able to reach middle age and yet not be able to regulate their lives so as to extend it to the seventh or eighth decade.

"Death in the 'fiftles must often be preventable with due foresight in management. Everyone should be willing to take stock of their physical condition at the age of 45; have the heart and vessels carefully tested and be willing to be guided by their medical attendant as to tile best course to pursue." On the question of eugenics, Dr. Goddard writes: "The time is overdue when, instead of wasting huge sums on educating people who are incapable of assimilating the higher grades of instruction, we should spend far more on physical culture. Dr. Goddard makes a plea "for the recognition of marked intelligence combined with physical fitness."

One of the speakers, Mr. W. A. Calon Norris, said that there was a need in these days to train the mind to the ready use of its "choosing power."

The result would be that we would automatically select the safe moment for crossing the road.

Mr. W. A. Narbeth sald: "People whose organ of caution is normally developed will not take risks in crossing the road; they stop Instinctively and look this way and that before they step off the pavement.

"Perception tells them whether there_is_danger, and not until the organ of reflection has decided that it is safe to cross, do they move,"

Dr. Ida Spelleman, honorary librarian of the society, who has made a special study of the working of the brain, believes the time is fast coming when all schoolteachers will be required to possess a knowledge of phrenology.

"It is of little use to tell a crowd of children to be careful in the streets," she said to me. "The bump of caution' differs in every child; in many it is so little developed that their impulses to take risks are almost entirely uncontrolled.

"With the help of phrenology teachers would discover which children were in need of special training in

CLERK DISMISSED FOR MARRYING ON £180

BANK'S MINIMUM SALARY RULE BROKEN

The case of Mr. W. E. Notman, a Scottish bank clerk, aged 29, earning £180 a year, after 10 years' service, who was dismissed because he insisted on marrying against the Commercial Bank of Scotland's wishes, was brought to the notice of the Ministry of Labour recently by a deputation from the Scottish Bankers' Association.

The Association contend that Mr. Notman has been victimised, and that his case 'llustrates the' need for official recognition of the Association as representatives of the bank clerks, and the establishment of a standard salary scale.

Mr. Alexander Kelly, general secretary of the Association, alleged that Mr. Notman was dismissed because he stated his intention of getting married before he reached the minimum of £200 salary stipulated by the bank.

He said that the object of the Association was to have the marriage . ban abolished.

"It is not the Covenant which has failed; it is the men," added the Foreign Minister, speaking of the demand for the reform of the League. "A great struggle will begin at Geneva this autumn and as a member of the international community I shall fight my utmost to end the evil which has been caused.

"I declare my faith in the League more firmly than ever," he continued.

New York, Aug. 23.

The early fall of Madrid is predicted by the Marquis Quintanar, delegate to Portugal from the Spanish Insurgent Junta at Burgos. .

He asserts that within three or four days the insurgents will be attacking the Leftists in the environs of Madrid, which will be followed by the capture of the capital.

The trouble may even end earlier, owing to peace proposals being made by the socialists of Guipuzcoa Province, including the defenders, of San Sebastian, Irun and Santander.

After the rebel victory, Spain will be ruled by a military dictatorship, which will ultimately select the regime calculated to best serve the country.—Reuter Special.

Protest to France

Lisbon, Aug. 23. The French Ambassador has refused to accept the Note of protest from the insurgent junta at Burgos, protesting against the bombing of an insurgent stronghold by French-built planes flying the French colours. It is alleged, that a squadron of fifteen such planes bombed Naval Peral and other places on Friday.—

TYPHOON WARNING...

The Manila Observatory reports

An official statement issued here to-day states the British steamer, Gibel Zerjon, was stopped by a Spanish warship ten miles off Melilla.

The battle-cruiser Repulse and two of His Majesty's destroyers are proceeding to the vicinity to investigate.

The Admiralty later announced that H.M.S. Codrington, flotilla leader out of Gibraltar, had overhauled the Spanish cruiser Miguel de Cervantes, which stopped the Gibel Zerjon. The captain of the destroyer went aboard the Spanish warship and protested against the Spaniard's interference with British shipping outside territorial waters.

The captain of the Miguel de Cervantes apologised. H.M.S. Repulse arrived on the ____New York, Aug. 23. The Queen Mary, giant Cunard-White Star liner, reached the Ambrose Lightship at 4.12 a.m., British Standard Time, her total' clapsed time from Cherbourg being four days, seven hours, twelve minutes.

Her average speed was thus 30.01 knots per hour, compared to the French liner, Normandie's best time of four days, eleven hours, forty-two minutes, 29.94 k.p.h. This was the Normandie's time on her maiden voyage from Cowes, which was 50 miles further than the Queen Mary

But in order to gain the Blue Riband of the Atlantic, the Queen Mary must now improve on the Normundie's west-to-east crossing; which was made, by the French ship last year at an average speed of 30.01

Cunard's Claim

The Cunard Line claims that the Queen Mary beat the Normandle's east to west record by four hours and thirty minutes, and that her average speed was .36 knot per hour better.

It is apparent that the first message, to the effect that the Queen Mary had clipped seven hours from the record for the crossing, was an

Jane Gordon tells you HowSHAMP()() HAIR

TETTING your hair properly shampooed, and shampooing it correctly yourself is a more tricky business than you might imagine. A half-hearted or inefficient shampoo which leaves the hair only partly clean and sticky with soap does more harm than no shampoo at all.

The wrong type of shampoo is as unbecoming to the hair as the wrong kind of cosmetics are to the face.

For women who shampoo their hair at home the following hints may be useful.

F your hair is dry and brittle you should B give yourself a regular oil shampoo. . This is done as follows:

The oil should be warmed before use as this makes it more pleasant and also the warmth increases its power of penetration. Olive oil, castor oil, or coconut oil may be used. The warmed oil should be put into a large saucer or a small bowl.

Mary Astor's Alleged Diary On "My Mistakes"

A LLEGING that his ex-wife, Miss Mary Astor, the film star, aged 30, is guilty of "gross immoral conduct," Dr. Franklyn Thorpe has put in diaries which, he says, were written by her, as his latest move in their fight for their daughter, Marylyn, aged four.

Last year Dr. Thorpe won his suit for divorce and was awarded the custody of Marylyn, although the child still lives with her mother. He. alleged that his former wife is an improper person to look after her. The nuburn-haired actress is seeking the setting aside of the divorce and the annulment of her marriage on the grounds that Dr. Thorpe was still married to another woman when they eloped in 1931.

Dr. Thorpe, in published entries from a diary, alleges that his exwife wrote them, admitting her conduct, with the idea that the child should read them.

On February 6, 1935, he says she wrote: "Why I keep writing things down in this book I don't know. Maybe Marylyn some day would like to know what sort of person her mother was, and maybe she will be consoled, when she makes mistakes and gets into jams, to know that her mother was a champion at making mistakes." mistakes."

The following were the jurors: Messrs. N. Mathieson (foreman), Jackson Chu, Lee Wai-cheong, II, Rucker, J. B. Emmert, Ng Pok-king, and I. S. Castro.

An employee of the first accused, Ng Chol, said that on the afternoon Gibel Zerjon, which had been held of July 18, the deceased and his wife up, proceeded on her way: H.M.S. came and asked his master for the return of money for opium. He heard his master say he would repay the money in the evening. He did not hear any quarrel between the parties. The wife of the deceased, Tse Chan, testified to having accompanied her husband to the first accused's hut where he asked for repayment of a debt. Feelings between them were not very good, and the second prisoner, who was also present, abused them. They retorted and a quarrel

EMPEROR OR GOVERNOR Nothing further happened until about 7 o'clock in the evening when she told her son of the dispute earlier in the day. The second accused, who lived in a hut next door to hers, overheard the story, and shouted out that he and his brother had not yet finished with her husband. She replied, "You think you are an Emperor and a Governor." Heated words were exchange, and finally they came out to the street and continued the

SIFTING RUBBISH FROM MANHOLE

Lee Wai, 45, unemployed, and Leung Yiu, 39, also unemployed, were charged before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning, for having trespassed on Crown Land in Hillier Street. The defendants pleaded guilty. Det-Sergeant Byron stated that the second defendant was seen by Wong Ngan, a P.W.D. foreman, standing above an open manhole at Hillier Street at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday. He approached him, and found out that the first defendant was inside the manhole, sifting out the rubbish, in the hope of finding valuables which they might be able to dispose of for money. It appeared that the manhole led to the bottom of a goldsmith's shop, and it was possible that defendants were in the hope of find-ing particles of gold dust which might have been washed down from the shop's sinks.

The first defendant was sentenced to a fine of $5, or, in default, one week's hard labour, and the second defendant, who had a previous conviction, was sentenced to two weeks'

Miss Swanson's Experience. "Many young girls would be spared much suffering if they would only follow my example, I was in a seriously annemic condition, languid, pale, breathless, and terribly nervous. I felt exhausted and always wanted to cry, so much so, that I was eventually reduced to a state of prostration.

"No remedy seemed to do me any good until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills brought about a surprising improvement. My short-ness of breath disappeared, my appetite became better and colour came back to my cheeks. My nerves were calmed and to-day, at the end of my cure, that terrible feeling of utter exhaustion has given place to splendid health."

Such is the experience of Miss Vera Swanson, of 3. New River Street, Weaste, Lancs, England; as related by herself, for the information of other young girls suffering as she did.

APPEAL FOR BAN ON POISON

Call to World Scientists— "This Thing Shall Not Be Done"

"OUR BRITISH MASK 100% PROTECTION"

RESOLUTION to ban the making of poison gas came before the annual representative meeting of the British Medical Association at Oxford recently.

That the representative body is of opinion that any protective measures for the general population against chemical warfare, can only be very imperfect and inadequate. As chemical warfare will cause untold, suffering and impairment of health, physically and mentally. together with the destruction of life, it should be proclaimed illegal.

In the interests of humanity the British Medical Association should take the initiative with a view to securing the co-operation of the medical profession of all countries in order to prohibit the manufacture of poison gas.

"I should like," Dr. Jones continued, "to quote the report of an instructor who said, 'We learned how a spark of mustard gas only a millimetre in size may cause a blister the size of a threepenny piece upon the skin, and how by the time the effect appears it is too late to do anything."

APPEAL TO WORLD

"Can we visualise what any effective measure to meet this possibly dire situation would mean? Forty-five million people wearing gas masks. Each new-born baby and infant in arms would have to be supplied.

HAPPY HEALTHY AND WORK? YOUR

SECRETS LEAVE"

(By Jan Mackay)

XX/OULD you believe that from the point of view of health it is more dangerous to sell an Ascot gown or a radiogram than to sell a bottle of aspirin or a tin of sardines? Or that you are much less likely to have to undergo an operation if you are a shop assistant than if syncopated pianoforte music by trial city of Ohio, decided to hold | you are a clerk?

At first sight there seems to be no reason for these anomalies, but they are explained quite sensibly in a little book just issued by the Industrial Health Research Board of the Medical Research Council.

---It-contains-the-results-of-an-investigation-into-the-causes-offrom failure into financial success sickness absence in two large groups of workers, by May Smith by a fan dancer, Sally Rand, who and Margaret Leiper. drew thousands of pop-eyed cus-

Their chief conclusion is that sickness is much more prevalent among women workers than among men.

Factory workers tend to have a lower sickness rate than shop assistants or clerical workers. This is partly due to the fact that many factory workers are on a piece-rate basis and are therefore more likely to stay at work when a clerk or a shopgirl would take a

Toto was an overnight sensa- day or two off. The common cold and influenza account for nearly 40 per cent. of the absences. An interesting psychological phenomenon is that workers who deal with people are more prone to illness than those who deal with symbols or things. THE SALESMAN'S LOT

For example, the average number of days lost by workers conto think, but I have taken a broad | cerned with people-waitresses, salesmen, etc.-was 3.1 for men and 5.6 for women. The number of days lost by clerks and writers was "I find the world wants nudism 2.7 for men and 3.5 for women.

When you come to workers concerned with things-factory workers-the figures fall to 2.1 for men and 3.0 for women.

The investigators make the following comment on these figures: "The salesman whose goods are in daily requirement and relatively standardised has an easier time than the salesman who not only has to supply the goods but to suggest, if not create, the want. To sell fashion goods may demand different qualities from those required to sell bread, aspirin or matches."

THAT WEEK-END FEELING It was found that in most cases of sickness there was only a oneday absence and that there were more absences on Saturdays and Mondays than on any other day of the week.

The accident rate for men is higher, but women have more operations. London had the highest accident rate, 17, for men against 6.9 in Outer

The effects of bad management and bullying overseers on the health of the workers was very marked in some workshops. In one firm, during an influenza epidemic, nearly all the girls in one room were absent, while few girls stayed away in the next room. The reason for this was that the head of the first room was a petty nagger, while the overseer of the other room was a kind, jolly soul bubbling over with the joy of life. The girls loved her, but hated the termagent next This valuable book also contains a report on Labour Wastage by Major Greenwood and May Smith, which I shall deal with in a future article.

TOKYO AND THE NEXT OLYMPICS

Tokyo, which grew in less than a decade from the shambles left by the earthquake of 1923 to a great modern city, is planning still further building achievements as it prepares to play host to the world's athletes during the Olympic Games

The city's preparations are designed to enhance Tokyo's permanent greatness as a world centre as well as to accommodate in the best possible manner those who will come here for the athletic carnival.

Enlarged hotels, new paving, improved transportation systems will go into the general betterment of conditions here while at the same time providing accommodation for the Olympic visitors.

The tennis league season is struggling to a finish but with odd matches being mutually arranged here and there it is impossible to give a definite programme from week to week.

This afternoon K.C.C. (1) entertain United Services Recreation Club in a mixed doubles encounter, while at Kowloon Tong, the constantly-postponed "C" Division match between the Garden City club and K.I.T.C., is scheduled to be played.

On Thursday, if things turn out as arranged, K.I.T.C. and Recreio will meet in the champtonship deciding match.

The Kowloon Indians may drop a point or two this afternoon in which case Recreio's task will be made considerably lighter. But in any event Recreto is favoured to bent K.I.T.C. as the team is better balanced in every respect, possessing three pairs of equal strength. The Hussain brothers, K.I.T.C. first string who have not yet lost or halved a single set this season, are going to be severely tested this week Should they emerge from the ordeal. with their record intact they will undisputably be named the best pair in the "C" Division.

K.C.C.' LAST CHANCE

To-morrow sees K.C.C. "A" Division team up against their bete noir Chinese Recreation Club (1). This will be Kowloon's last chance of having any say in the championship. But at the most it is a very slender chance and cannot be seriously entertained.

Fincher's Great Game Against Odds

OWES 40 THROUGH TWO SETS

A new effort is being made to complete the Kowloon Cricket Club tennis tournament started some months ago, and this week several matches are scheduled to be played. Yesterday, E. C. Fincher, although losing 6-3, 6-4, played magnificently in a handicap "A" match against S. A. Gray. Fincher owed 40 every game while the winner was on the scrntch mark. The K.C.C. champion produced some of his finest angled volleys and pacy driving to win the first two games of the match and to hold his opponent to ten games the second set. By that time both players, were suffering from the effects of the heat and Fincher lost volley on the run.

On Thursday Fincher plays Frank Grose in the senior championship, ATTACK AND COUNTER-ATTACK while on Wednesday A.E.P. Guest and S. A. Gray meet in the second round of the senior championship. Several other matches have been arranged, including men's doubles handleap events for Sunday next.

Coming out of his corner fast as the bell started the first round Cochet Wins Creighton had just taken his queer bent-knee stance when the left handed Japanese unleashed a left and a right that threw him off-balance momentarily. They then circled each other warily and had a few harmless exwarily and had a few harmless exchanges before the round ended. It was Kobayashi's by a slim margin.

Throughout the second and third rounds, Creighton would repeatedly rush his opponent against the ropes and beat him with a flailing twofisted attack. The Japanese broke away occasionally to win arguments at long range through better timing but both rounds were dominated by the match when he netted an easy | the destructive infighting of Creighton. He won both rounds to take a lead.

As the bout progressed into the middle stage the Japanese looked worried over the flerce streatto tactics of the Briton. He also started missing more frequently as they sparred in the middle of the ring. In the fourth round Creighton had been glving the Japanese a bad time in some prolonged infighting when the latter suddenly broke clear and landed a peries of hard blows to the face that nut Creighton definitely on the run. But experienced in ring craft Creighton managed to weather the storm until the bell allowed him to slump exhausted in his corner.

Recovering quickly, Creighton took the fifth easily with a flerce attack to the body in which he hit the Jnpanese about five times as often as he was hit himself. He continued these tactics successfully into the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds, while the Japanese accepted the punishment without wincing and scored now and again with a hook

It is probable that the committee intends conducting some sort of trials before October 10, more with the idea of giving our players serious practice than because there is any pronounced difficulty in selecting the team. In 1932, the last time an Interport was played in the Colony our representatives were the Rumjahn cousins, Tsui Waipui, E. C. Fincher and the Lo brothers. Of these the Rumjahns land Taui Wai-pai are almost certain to play this year. They are our natural—almost inevitable representatives for the singles.

Bowling Green Must Win Their Last Match

Kowloon Bowling Green Club's defeat by Recreio on Saturday has opened up a new possibility concerning the second division bowls league championship. If the K.B.G.C. should lose their one remaining match and Recreio win the rest of their's, the teams will finish on level pegging. However on the face of it the K.B.G.C. appear to be reasonably safe for the title.

Hudge scored with one net-cord shot, coding three double-faults. Some interesting data was obtained from the play of G. P. Hughes and C. R. D. Tuckey during their semi-final and final matches in the Men's Doubles Championship at Wim-Liedon: Hughes fost two service deliveries out of twelve in the semifinal and only one out of twelve in the final, his side winning 93 points to 43 lost in his service games. Tuekey dropped three of his service deliveries in the semi-final (out of 13 deliveries) and three more in the final (out of 14 deliveries), his side securing 110 points to 58 points lost during his services.

Tuckey won fifteen services in the two matches to love or to 15, and Hughes eleven.

New Goalkick Rule

TIRST class goalkeepers at I Home, it is reported, have been spending the past few weeks accustoming themselves to the new goal-kick rule, which denies a goalkeeper the right of picking up the ball in his hands before kicking it. One wonders what goalkeepers in Hongkong are going to do about it. The new rule opens up considerable possibilities for alert centre-forwards. Outside of the Chinese, it has been noticeable that few goalkeepers in Hongkong can kick a stationary ball a good length and with the right altitude; and unless some painstaking practice is put in to improve their place kicking, our custodians may find themselves having an unhappy

Question Of Mechanics

Allen's figures were six wickets for more difficult than correctly heading a ball, or correctly Maurice Leyland, another Test taking a first-timer, or correctly trapping, or correctly passing. It boils down to the mechanics of the game. avoided is too long a run. It is llike running half-way down the pitch to drive a cricket ball, or taking too long a swing to hit a tennis winner: the more effort used-in-preparing-for-the-ultimate shot, or stroke, is to make the correct timing more difficult. Kicking a stationary ball to obtain the best results is, on the one hand, a question of proper timing and on the other, a matter of weight transference. This is a simple axiom, though it demands hard practice to translate it into effective practical terms. Fortunately Colony goalkeepers enjoy one advantage. They are blessed with dry grounds for at least three parts of the season. It is on the mud-laden ground where custod-Derbyshire, 167 for seven wickets, lians are going to experience their greatest trouble with this newrule. But if Colony goalkeepers care to adapt themselves to the new conditions, there is no reason why they should be materially affected. We shall have a better idea of the problem in a couple of months' time.

LOG-by TOHN SUSSEX

HAT things happen in time is a characteristic snatch of rural philosophy. A good-looking sort of house stands empty, month after month, for perhaps a couple of People can't altogether understand why. Must be that the owners wanted too much for it, and so on. Nice piece of ground all round it, pleasant views yet sheltered, handy to a village and plenty of water. Then one day the boards come down. curtains appear at the windows, the garden borders take on a cared-for appearance, and folk cease to wonder, except what the new people will be like. And that they'll find out all in good time. Accidents occurred again and again at a certain cross-roads. So many inquiries were held yet nothing ever seemed to get done about it, as we say. The road service man had only to turn his back or go to a near-by cottage for a cup of tea, and there'd be a smash sure enough.

Hedges were cut back, corners were rounded, but as soon as the crops grew, the long, rich cars of the wheat ripening for harvest shut out the view of 'oncoming cross-wise traffic heading for a holiday coast.

Then the tragedles piled up. The spot became notorious. Folk sauntered out to it on a Sunday afternoon half expecting the walk might be enlivened by a sight of narrow squeaks and even crashes.

OW at long last the four cross-roads will trolled by traffic lights. Red, amber and green will reguinto the flashing stream of cars on race-days, deep-set in the heart of an empty stretch of country. It is just what was wanted.

Electricity to work them with had reached the little factory centre years before, now, at long last, a couple of cables are strad-

for some little while. Then they've begun to open up the grass wastes at the side of a winding lane. It's rumoured the water's to reach this and that hamlet and farmstead before the height of the summer. That doesn't necessarily mean that each house will get a laid-on supply.

But instead of the discredited well, there'll be a roadside tap. encased and locked, so that each would-be user first must "buy" a Ten shillings a year and a fifty yards' walk' with a couple of buckets is the system it is to be worked on. This might not suit those who take a tap over sink and bath for granted.

But it does mark a step forward for those whose well gave out in the last dry summer or two. And It does relieve an anxiety which of late years has somehow been so recur-

All the same, it also goes to show what countrymen will put up with. It kept the dead in their place. But, it's all so unsystematic, almost casual in the way it comes £800,000 he left to accumulate through in many places. That the right of a child to a proper education should be made to depend upon an impoverished district's ability to pay or the initiative of some decrepit group of vicarage nominces is just-as silly as scandalous, Yet that's still the general method. There's no common standard in practice.

A teacher, still in her early twenties, has desks bound to make the children fidgety, windows that never open and so high up that no child ever can see out of one, a range of ages from 5 years to 12 and of both sexes. Part of her duties is to regulate the tidy use of a common pail dry closet, dry boots and shoes too worn with a two-miles each way scuffle to school to keep out wet.

CEVEN miles away, a new school is going up where the children will be more fortunate. The county committee granted so much money when the original plans were passed. All the rates would stand, they said.

A couple of people with ideas about what should be distinctive in the lay-out of a rural school, and with money with which to back such ideas, offer to build such a school, first using up the county committees' fixed and original amount, then paying for the additional themselves.

That scheme's gone through. An architect has been commissioned to proceed. One half suspects the promoter's object is as much to indict the dreary discomforts and discouragement of such crections as the one almost neighbour unto it, as to equip the more fortunate batch of children with their proud facilities.

Other efforts in the same locality systems of proper sanitation, villages.

some agendas for the past twenty and over years.

That word "proper" infers a general condition that what obtains is highly "improper." Furtive escapades take place after dark to make deposits under clods in odd corners of fields which the knowing for ever afterwards avoid.

Continual complaint seems to be the most effective way to keep up pressure for a more sanitary. therefore sensible, way of treating this nulsance. One has never yet met the community which stirred itself on such an issue as to promote a fete in aid of its solution. That's what is done for village halis. A slow process, repeated annually.

The young die old before they lay even the foundation stone. "Talk" about the place possessing a hall of its own, as apart from sectarian assembly meeting rooms, which rule out one and another function often for narrow-minded reasons, goes on for years.

In our case we have got as far as a Committee. Then comes the Whitsun or the August fete and one day it will be that the thing has happened. "Talked about it long enough."

How the village shrugs its shoulders. But what a day they make of it when it all comes true.

ROUNDABOUT by The Showman-

TOU have been asking for anniversaries, Mrs. S.: Well, here are two this week, the deaths of Peter Thellusson, in 1797, and Daniel Lambert, in 1809. Thellusson was the man whose will led to the passing of The Thellusson Act, which stopped you and me leaving our property to accumulate for more than twenty-one years. In other, more acidulous, words, For, under Thellusson's scheme, the the lives of his sons and grandsons So with the tiny country schools would have swollen to the staggering mount-even judged by modern standards—of £19,000,000. His last grandson died in 1856, when, as you may imagine, there was a roaring lawsuit over the will. Eventually, what with expenses and costs, the amount to be dealt out barely, ex-

-- cected the original bequest. This seems to prove something or other-particularly this:--if you can be a successful lawyer, be one: also that £600,000 is better than a sock in

FAT MAN

ANIEL LAMBERT was, perhaps, The Fat Man of All Time. He was born near Leicester, and succeeded his father as Jail-keeper,

When he died, at the age of 39, he was 5(t. 11in. tall, weighed 527 stone, and measured 8ft. 6in, round the waist. He was exhibited as a freak, and a wit who paid his shilling for a look is said to have remarked that the lions would have liked to be in Daniel's den. Poor Daniel Lambertl

Debutante's Delight

PRESERVE this among your memories of the nearly-dead London season-how a debutante went one better than those who go stockingless to a dance, and wore toe-less stockings with her evening sandals. In manner light and giry,

As pretty as a rose,

She dances like a fairy And cracks her little toes.

Sweet Sorrow

"The Pler That No-one Wants." And do you remember when 'we were there, on that very pler, and little Florric left her toffee on the seat, and you sat on it and blamed me and then concern themselves with village halls, it all started; and me in my tight systems of proper sanitation, villages. shoes and trying to be cheerful: and bye-passed, and similar projects on then you dropped the basket that you were carrying and smushed the beer and blamed me; what a man you were! And then I saw you looking in that machine-Paris Beauties, it was-and giggling: and that was the last straw: and I pushed you off the pier? Oh, Henry, you're only a photograph I'm talking to-my late lamented husband! But I'd buy that pler just to push'you off it again. There, I'm crying: aren't I a silly?--

Wags' Corner

An old man told the guard of a remote Beottish railway that he was liable to fall asleep, and asked to be put off at a particular station. Later he re-appeared, cursing the guard for having let him pass his destination.

"So you wisns the mon!" mused the guard. "Sair, sair, did he fecht, but ah put him off, ah put him off. Aweel, this will be a lesson tae me no tae forget ma glasses." Half-a-guinea to Mr. S. Paton, of

SIXTEEN TO DEATH

PLOTTED AGAINST SOVIET REGIME VERDICT IS

APPLAUDED Moscow, Aug. 24. All the defendants in the counterrevolutionary charges which im-plicated, among other political figures, Grigori Zinovieff, Kameneff and A. I. Rykov, Commissar of Posts and Telegraphs, have been sentenced to death. They were accused of having plotted with Leon Trotsky, former Dictator, for the murder of Stalln and the overthrow of the present regime.

All sixteen of the accused plended guilty to conspiracy and declared they had repented their crime. The court deliberated for eight hours and thereafter sentenced the defendants to be shot.

The verdict was tumultuously applauded by the spectators. ONLY ONE HOPE The only hope of the condemned now lies in an appeal to the Central Executive Committee. They have been given leave to appeal, which means the sentences will not be carried out for the next 72 hours. All accused confessed and since they were found guilty on all counts, it was not thought they would appeal. However, the Kremlin may commute at least some of the sentences,-

DOES CHINA FEEL WAR CERTAIN?

QUESTION TO BE ASKED TO-DAY

YOSEMITE PARLEY

Yosemite, Aug. 23. To-morrow's discussions at the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations will attempt to establish whether Chinese reconstruction can be best attained through the estab-lishment of a strong Chinese Government under the auspices of the League of Nations, the supervision of other Powers, or by the establishment of a Soviet regime. If Dr. Hu Shih, one of the Chinese delegates, maintains the viewpoint that a Far Eastern war is inevitable, challenging the American way of the delegates admit that they will despair." have to face the most difficult problem of the entire session, The Chinese delegates will be asked to explain. Firstly, the principal objectives of the National Government towards reconstruction, including road and railway construction, rural rehabilitation, oplum control, flood protection, and land reform; Secondly, what programme of reconstruction a stable Soviet-Chinese Government could offer; Thirdly, the possibility of the pre-sent Government working harmon-lously with Japan in order to give Japan access to raw materials; and Fourthly, what China's specific objections are to Japan helping reconstruction.—United Press.

LANDON RALLIES FORCES '

NO SACRIFICE OF FREEDOM

DICTATORSHIP OPPOSED

West Middlesex (Pa.), Aug. 23. Governor Alfred Landon, Republican candidate for the Presidency, to-day stood at the scene of paper here, says that if these his birth and, in a fighting speech, summoned Americans to cling courageously to "a determination to win security and abundance without sacrificing any of our precious heritage of freedom."

THE ALTERNATIVES

"Here at my birthplace," said Governor Landon, "I seek to make clear what I believe to be the choice now before the country. It is a choice between the pig-in-a-poke policies of the present Administration and those American institutions under which we have enjoyed more liberty and attained a higher standard of living than any people in the Governor Landon repeatedly assailed those raising "doubt and distrust" of the nation's future under a traditional system. He hammered upon the need of governmental control only where it was based on correct advice, and demanded "courage to face the dangers and responsibilities accompanying liberty."-United Press.
